Evening Teacher Certification

Bachelor of Arts in Elementary Education
Stacy Hill (Director)

The mission of the Whitworth School of Education is to prepare educators of mind and heart who are scholars, community members, effective practitioners, visionary leaders, and guardians. The School of Education provides opportunities to integrate theory and practice in diverse settings through the study of established and emerging content as well as through pedagogical and professional knowledge. Whitworth University prepares educators to have a positive impact on the learning and development of those they are called to serve.

The learning outcomes of this major prepare students to be...

SCHOLARS
Educators of mind and heart possess current knowledge of the content areas in which they work, understand the connections among disciplines, use tools of inquiry, and demonstrate an attitude of ongoing learning as existing fields of knowledge continue to evolve and grow. Educators of mind and heart strengthen their existing knowledge base through continuous intellectual and scholarly growth based on current research, the study of their own practice, the analysis of data collected and the application of data to the solution of problems in their respective fields of study.

COMMUNITY MEMBERS
Educators of mind and heart develop and sustain intentionally collaborative and interdependent relationships among teachers, students and their families, counselors, administrators, and other community members. Educators of mind and heart understand their roles as professional colleagues in the school, community and professional organizations. They actively help to shape the culture of classrooms and schools to reflect the values of our democratic society. They model professional behaviors appropriate for those entrusted with educating today’s children and young people.

EFFECTIVE EDUCATORS
Educators of mind and heart are prepared to analyze situations, set goals, plan and monitor actions, assess outcomes, and reflect on their professional thinking and decision making. They are committed to culturally responsive and relevant practices that engage students and are purposeful in making a positive impact on their students’ learning. They demonstrate proficiency in the selection and differentiation of materials, strategies, and assessment practices that are appropriate for the diversity of students and the educational contexts in which they serve. They use formative and summative data as evidence for decision-making. They are competent in using technology and other 21st-century skills in the educational setting to improve their own practice and the learning of their students.

VISIONARY LEADERS
Educators of mind and heart have a vision. They articulate a personal philosophy of education that includes a belief in the worth and ability of each human being that provides a framework guiding personal and professional decision making and development. The educators’ practices are intentionally aligned with this vision for the benefit of members of their learning communities. Educators of mind and heart model transformational and servant leadership in their learning communities and in their contributions to society.

GUARDIANS
Educators of mind and heart act as advocates for children and youth, demonstrating a sincere commitment to the success of all and paying attention to the roles that diversity – including gender, ability, ethnicity, race, culture, religion, and socio-economic status – brings to learning and the community. Educators understand and respect the inter-connected, global nature of society and encourage sustainable practices designed to preserve our world for future generations. In the Christian tradition of servant leadership, educators serve humankind and seek opportunities to assist, encourage and support all those under their care in a manner that leads to transformation in the lives of their students.

The Whitworth Evening Teacher Certification Program, a collaborative effort between the School of Education and the School of Continuing Studies, allows adults who work full time to complete...
Evening Teacher Certification

a teacher-certification program in an accelerated evening and Saturday format. Students can earn a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education with teacher certification, while those with a college degree can complete the requirements for certification only. Post-baccalaureate students can enroll in the 500 level of designated courses and apply up to 18 semester credits as electives if they are accepted into a Whitworth Graduate Studies in Education program within four years of ETC program completion.

Articulation Agreement

Students who complete the coursework identified by this agreement for award of an AAS degree at SFCC will transfer with 60-64 semester credits (depending on total number of credits earned through the AAS degree) and will be granted junior standing at Whitworth. This agreement is intended to eliminate duplication of coursework and is consistent with the goals and objectives of both institutions.

Evening Teacher Certification Curriculum

The ETC program is offered in a cohort-based format in which a core group of approximately 20 students work collaboratively through each of the courses in sequence. Within the final semester, students will complete a full-time student-teaching practicum. Cohorts begin in August and February.

Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies

The Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies Program is designed for individuals who are interested in the field of education, but who do not plan to complete the requirements to become a certified teacher.

The Whitworth Evening Teacher Certification Program views the role of educators as a calling – a commitment to understanding and responding compassionately to the needs of children and youth. Educators are more than classroom teachers. They are involved in every aspect of a child’s life. The EDP conceptualizes our graduates as educators of mind and heart who serve as scholars, community members, guardians, effective practitioners and visionary leaders. Courses in this program are structured around this conceptual framework, and students are encouraged to view their future roles as educators through this model.
